dLAN® 500 duo Starter Kit

Small adapter, double connection.

The dLAN® 500 duo from devolo is the ideal entry-level adapter for your home network. Thanks to the simple connection through the household power line, internet is available in every room in the blink of an eye. Two LAN ports on the adapter allow for two devices to be directly connected, such as a computer and network printer in the home office. The compact housing enables flexible and unobtrusive placement at any power outlet and can be expanded with additional adapters.
